

Social Identity Wheel (adapted from "Voices of Discovery")

The chart below features a circle that is separated into 11 sections. Each section is labeled: (starting at the top and moving clockwise around the circle) ethnicity; socio-economic status; gender; sex; sexual orientation; national origin; first language; physical, emotional, developmental (dis)ability; age; religious or spiritual affiliation; race. In the center of the circle, there are five numbered prompts: (1) Identities you think about most often; (2) Identities you think about least often; (3) Your own identities you would like to know more about; (4) Identities that have the strongest effect on how you perceive yourself; (5) Identities that have the greatest effect on how others perceive you.

Questions to Consider:

1. How was doing this activity? Was there anything surprising to you?
2. How do your responses inform your practice when engaging with your students?
3. Would you fill this out differently outside of your role as an educator?
